

Sea and Sage Audubon Society is proud to partner with the Consulate of Mexico-Santa Ana to present the PASE program to school children of Orange County.

What is the PASE Program?

What is the PASE Program?

(Spanish acronym for Walk Around, Learn, surprise yourself and Experiment ... the Cultural and Natural Richness in Orange County)

It's a cultural and educative initiative by the Consulate of Mexico in Orange County to support students from elementary to high school by encouraging them to visit 24 cultural places within the County and to have new learning experiences. This project aims to wake the interest of Mexican students and from other nationalities to visit these places to experience the endless possibilities they have in a County full of cultural and natural richness.

Where can you obtain the PASE card?

At the Consulate of Mexico in Santa Ana, California.
With the participating partners.

Who is the target population of the PASE Program?

K-12 students in Orange County. The PASE card is free of charge.

Does the PASE card allow you to get free admission to the participating venues?

No, each participating institution has special offers and incentives for the students.

There are places where admission is free, like the Santa Ana Library, Newport Beach Library, Fullerton Arboretum, Historic Orange County Courthouse in Santa Ana and others have free admission one day in the month. Please check on participating agencies websites to find out about their free admittance days. For example, at the Laguna Art Museum and the Irvine Zoo if a student presents his/her P.A.S.E., his/her brothers and sisters as well as his/her Mom and Dad will get free admission. In other places, the entry will be according to the fees they have.

PASE program has its own website: www.programapase2017.com.
