

You Can Help Wild Birds in Orange County!

Some birds live here all year long. You might see the reddish-brown House Finch singing and nesting in your yard!

Other birds migrate here in spring and summer from southern tropical countries. The blue-colored Cliff Swallow has a tan-colored forehead and rump. Look for its mud nests in colonies on cliffs, bridges and buildings.

You can help birds in your neighborhood by doing these three things.

1. Plant California native shrubs in your yard.
2. Trim trees in fall and winter to avoid cutting down hidden bird nests.
3. Keep your house cat indoors.

Art by Sofia Speakman
Coloring by Alexandra Thomas

Learn more about birds and their habitats at Sea and Sage Audubon Society, 949-261-7963, seaandsageaudubon.org.