On-the-trail training to become a WILDLIFE WALK naturalist

Sea and Sage is looking for people who are interested in sharing nature with others during our Wildlife Walk program on the first Saturday of the month for 1.5 hours starting at 9 a.m. From bulrush to butterflies, from lizards to egrets, we cover whatever nature we encounter on the wetland trails in a friendly, interactive way.

It's easy!

Training begins January 2019.

To learn more and to enroll, contact Trude Hurd, Project Director of Education, seaandsage@sbcglobal.net or phone 949-261-7964.

If you love Nature... we need you!

You do not need to be a nature expert but you should be familiar with the San Joaquin Wildlife Sanctuary in Irvine. We will provide the training so that you learn to recognize some of its most common birds, plants and other animals.

Requirements:
• Willing to learn about the most common birds, plants and animals of the marsh.
• Willing to learn interpretive techniques to share nature with others.
• Able to assist and later lead at least 4 walks per year.
• Friendly!
